ADLAI CENTER OF STORM ON CIVIL RIGHTS

County Officials and State Police Investigate Shooting Incident at Southwest Farm

Chicago (P)—Adlai E. Stevenson rode the angry waves of a self-created storm over civil rights today with some signs that his Democratic presidential nomination might be bringing a leak.

Stevenson, top contender for the nomination at next week's convention, hit his Southern supporters with something akin to a bolt of lightning yesterday. He called for "unequivocal approval" in the party's platform of the Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools.

Distressed Southerners hurriedly huddled under the leadership of Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi. Coleman last month headed a preconvention caucus of Dixie Democrats concerned primarily with keeping the party from endorsing the court's opinion.

After three hours of discussion behind closed doors, Coleman came up with this verdict:

The Southerners don't like Stevenson's stand but "as of this date" he remains the active candidate most acceptable to the South.

Coleman added later, however, that "the whole situation will have to be reappraised in the light of the developments and the action of the Platform Committee."

This seemed to hold out the threat that if no compromise is reached within the Platform Committee, some of the Southerners might walk out of the convention. Any such move would enhance the chances of Stevenson's thus-far outdistanced rival Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Tragedy Involving Warren Native Is Murder and Suicide

Xenia, Ohio, (P)—Greene County Coroner Hugh C. Schick says the Monday night deaths of a Wright-Patterson Air Force base sergeant and a 16-year-old James-town youth appeared to be a "case of murder and suicide."

Schick said he was awaiting ballistic and autopsy reports, however, before making a final ruling.

A preliminary report by sheriff's deputy Lon Adams said T-Sgt. Gene Lee Burgoyne, 37, a native of Warren, Pa., apparently shot Billy Sutton in the stomach and in the right leg and turned the .32 caliber pistol on himself.

Prosecutor George R. Smith said Wesley Claxton, a Jamestown restaurant owner, had turned over to authorities a note apparently written by Burgoyne, who was in the restaurant earlier in the evening.

The note read:

"I am sorry I am doing what I am doing, but I can't help it. I love Billy Sutton like my own son but he doesn't care anything for me."

STORM FATALITY

Pittsburgh (P)—The series of storms that hit Western Pennsylvania over the weekend indirectly claimed another life yesterday. The victim, Boyd L. Young, 46, was electrocuted by an extension cord while he was cleaning mud and debris from his home near Carnegie.

FALL PROVES FATAL

Uintown (P)—A fall down a cement stairway last night killed John Wydo, 68, of New Salem. He was the father of Frank Wydo, a veteran tackle of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles.

Russell Child Given Puppy To Replace One Lost in the Flood

Readers of the Times-Mirror who were shocked to read of the sad ending of little Myra Johnson's puppy, who lost his life in the recent flood, will be able to sleep again tonight, for last evening the little girl was presented with another pet by Norman Olson, of Irvine.

Grief over loss of "Little Governor," was somewhat alleviated when the new dog, part Collie and part setter, was placed into her arms.

On the way to pick up the dog, her daddy, Emil Johnson, of Russell RD 1, according to reports, was given instructions on how to reach Irvine by his daughter who barely able to wait, pointed out turns in the road and gave detailed information on different aspects of his driving, but on the way home, Myra, content with the wriggling animal in her arms, forgot that her father might not know the way and poor Daddy had to get home as best he could. When Mr. Johnson remarked that the puppy might become a large animal, perhaps too large for such a little girl, Myra, with a child's undisputable philosophy answered, "A dog is a dog."

All we can say is, we wish all dogs had owners like Myra.

Milo A. Robishaw, Jr., is in the Titusville Hospital today suffering from a gunshot wound in the thigh. His 40-year-old mother is recovering from cuts on the head and his 62-year-old father is being brought to the Warren county sheriff's office for questioning as a result of a fracas at their home in Southwest township last evening when a constable called at the home to take the younger man into custody on three warrants.

The difficulties for the Robishaw family started on their Warren County farm a few miles east of Titusville when Constable Mantle Vroman sought to arrest young Robishaw on two charges of passing bad checks and one of larceny.

Vroman said he had Robishaw by the arms when the youth broke away and ran toward his home.

The officer said he thought Robishaw was going inside for a gun and that he pulled his .38 caliber pistol from his pocket and shot him in the thigh. Then, Vroman said, Robishaw's mother attacked him three times and he hit the woman on the head with his pistol.

About this time, Vroman said, Milo A. Robishaw grappled with him. The elder Robishaw was quickly subdued and carted off to jail on an open charge while his wife and son went to the hospital. Mrs. Robishaw, mother of 13 children, was released after treatment.

Chicago (P)—Chicago's mounting polio outbreak—now 609 cases and 13 deaths—today appeared heading toward the halfway mark of a full-scale epidemic.

Clinics and hospitals, wary of the mid-August and September peak polio season, stepped up their program of inoculating thousands of Chicago children with Salk antipolio vaccine.

The U. S. Public Health Service, on the basis of the city's nearly four million population, has set 1,330 cases as the number marking an epidemic.

The 1956 polio surge in Chicago—the nation's highest—is more than 3½ times greater than a corresponding period in 1952 when the previous high was set with 170 cases and 11 deaths. The total number of cases in 1952 was 1,203.

This year's outbreak exceeds by more than 7½ times the 80 cases and three deaths reported for the same period a year ago.

Meanwhile, leaders of the vanguard to the Democratic National Convention starting Monday watched the mushrooming polio outbreak but did not plan any mass inoculation of delegates.

Ten-Months-Long Strike At W. E. Plant Ends

Philadelphia (P)—A 10-month-long strike that idled the suburban Lester steam turbine plant of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. ended early today when the union membership voted 4-1 to accept a 5-year contract negotiated on Monday.

The strike—longest of its size in Philadelphia's labor history—lasted 299 days and involved 6,000 employees. The vote was 2,167 for and 539 against the proposed contract with 31 ballots voided.

The strike was marred also by the jailing for several days of 26 union leaders who refused to pay what they termed "excessive fines" for contempt of an injunction against mass picketing, and numerous other court actions, some of which are still pending.

Political Sabotage Blamed for Blast Killing Over 700

Call, Colombia, (P)—Hundreds of persons were reported killed in tremendous explosions and fires erupting from seven dynamite trucks parked in the heart of Cali.

The first high official report called it political sabotage.

Eisenhower also dealt with these other matters:

HEALTH—He declared anew that if at any time he feels his health is not what it should be for him to serve a second term, he will go before the American people and tell them so.

POLITICS—Eisenhower said he feels he has made himself perfectly clear with respect to the controversy over a vice presidential running mate. If he didn't manage to be clear at his news conference last week then he probably never will be able to, he added.

REBUILDING GOP—A reporter recalled Eisenhower said last week his interest in rebuilding the Republican party was a factor in his decision to run for a second term.

VACATION—Eisenhower said he plans to spend three or four days vacationing somewhere in the San Francisco area after the party's national convention, but he did not specify just where. He added that he has no other vacation plans for the summer.

SEGREGATION—Eisenhower said he could not predict how the Republican party plank on civil rights will be stated in its platform, but that so far as the school desegregation issue is concerned, he is sworn to uphold the Constitution of the United States.

The spot where the trucks were parked was scooped into a large crater by the force of the explosion. Buildings as far as 12 blocks from the blast center were damaged extensively.

Large-scale relief operations were in full swing.

Leader Seeking To Have Disaster Aid For Flooded Area

(Turn to Page Eight)

Harrisburg (P)—Gov. Leader today awaited word from President Eisenhower on whether sections of southwestern Pennsylvania damaged by flood waters last Sunday and Monday will be declared major disaster areas.

At first the suspect asked him what the warrants were for then he refused to go, saying he did not have to because the constable did not have the warrants with him.

Constable Vroman then told him he would read the information at the Titusville jail.

At this point, according to the constable, Mrs. Robishaw broke in and told her son he did not have to go. A visitor at the home, Louis Jackson of Grand Valley, RD 1, also told Robishaw Jr. he did not have to obey the officer.

Stepping up to the porch, the constable said he grabbed the suspect by the arm to take him away. But at that instant the mother rammed him, knocking him from the porch but he didn't fall down, the constable said. Her son then

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

Republican voters in Kansas yesterday rejected Governor Fred Hall's bid for renomination while Michigan Republicans overwhelmingly picked Mayor Alfred E. Cobo of Detroit as their candidate for governor.

In Missouri, lawyers Herbert Douglas of Neosho and Albert E. Schoenbeck of St. Louis were battling head-to-head for the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate. It appeared absentee ballots might decide the issue.

Hall's defeat by State Representative Warren W. Shaw marked only the second time in half a century that a Republican governor of Kansas had been denied a chance for a second term.

IKE IS HOPING FOR PEACEFUL END OF CRISIS

Washington, (P)—President Eisenhower said today he has every hope the Suez Canal crisis will be settled by peaceful means.

Eisenhower, told a news conference he cannot conceive of military force bringing a good solution in the tense situation under present circumstances.

Told that his remarks might give the impression he would be opposed to use of force under any circumstances, Eisenhower shot back that he had not said that.

What we are trying to do, Eisenhower said, is to substitute the conference table for the battlefield. His mention of the conference table was an allusion to the 24-nation conference which the Western Big Three—the United States, Britain and France—have called in London for Aug. 16 in an effort to arrive at a peaceful settlement of the Suez situation.

Eisenhower also dealt with these other matters:

HEALTH—He declared anew that if at any time he feels his health is not what it should be for him to serve a second term, he will go before the American people and tell them so.

"I wasn't expecting any trouble," he said. "I had my wife and child with me."

Latest Communication From Our Community Ambassador

Editors Note—

Another in a series of articles about Dutch cities has reached the Times-Mirror from Sally A. Weiler, Warren county ambassador of goodwill in Holland. Sally Weiler Miss Weiler tells of her many interesting experiences in the Dutch country and her visits to the quaint towns adjoining Apeldoorn.

July 31, 1956

Traveling this time with Pam Roberts, of Larchmont, N. Y., Pam's Dutch mother and sister I journeyed via Volkswagen to a large farm in Northern Holland for a day. We took the long way around in order to make several interesting stops. The first was the town of Kampen, one-half hour's drive from Apeldoorn. We saw the River Ysel through the arch of the ancient town gate. Then we toured a home of the 16th century which is now used as a library with three floors of books and reading rooms. Crossing the street we saw the inside of the 15th century town hall still in use for court trials. Also learned that in or near Kampen a man named Adrian van Kamp was born in 1732 and this man, who later became judge in Ulster County, New York, U. S. A., originally planned the Erie canal water route! Small world, isn't it?

On our way again we were soon driving through the Northeast polder which was part of the North Sea only a few years ago and is of course below sea level. This polder was the prettiest part of Holland that I've yet seen—flat farmland with fields of green flax stretching out beside fields of ripe wheat or fields of white poppies in bloom. Far in the distance at the edge of the fields could be seen single rows of trees against the horizon and animals grazed near the farm buildings of large houses attached to larger barns, scattered along the highway.

Weather was gorgeous with sunny, blue skies and I found this neat agricultural district much to the liking of my farmercette's heart! Before reaching our destination we drove through the city of Groningen, 140,000 population, which is the principal town of its province, also called Groningen. There is a Dutch-American group similar to our Apeldoorn one staying in the general area of Groningen so we stopped just long enough to say hello to the leader, Wil Petty, of Washington, D. C. Then we hurried out about 30 miles to spend the afternoon with the Dutch farm family, friends of Pam's Dutch family.

Mal Carrier M. E. (Ed) Larson is covering his route these days with a heavy heart—he has lost his companion who had followed him on his tours for the past ten years. "Tippy", Chow dog owned by Grant Green, 113 Sixth avenue, who knew the mail route as well as did the carrier himself, was struck by a motorist last Friday afternoon, and sustained injuries that resulted in his death. He was a general favorite, not only with Carrier Larson, but all residents of the neighborhood where he lived for twelve years. "Tippy" was a regular visitor in Times-Square almost every day, rain or shine. Workers in the newspaper office were accustomed to seeing him appear around the corner of Market street and Pennsylvania avenue early each morning, and he on the sidewalk looking down the street watching for Larson, and it was always interesting to watch the joy he displayed when his companion hove in sight. The faithful Chow is shown above with Larson on one of his deliveries late last winter.

The 150 acre farm, good sized here, produced crops for industrial use.

Main crop was flax which only blooms in the morning and the flax was not yet cut. After it is ripe it is stored in the barn to cure for the winter, then it's sold in the spring to be made into fibers first and finally into line. Other crops were winter wheat which was shocked in very straight rows; green summer wheat; green oats; and linseed, used for its oil. This particular farm had four milk cows of a special Groningen breed for family use and during the summer months these cows are hand-milked twice a day right in the pasture. Also in the pasture were 10 yearling heifers which were Holstein-Friesians.

After a delicious supper we returned to Apeldoorn, often driving beside canals with city lights reflected therein and an occasional boat chugging on its way.

Retailers Campaign Committee Reports Progress on Drive To Raise Fund for Parking Plan

At the regular August meeting of Retailers Committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce last evening, J. K. Krimmel chairman of the retailers campaign committee, reported $4,860.00 had been subscribed to date.

A campaign to raise $10,000.00 to finance downtown parking has been undertaken by the retailers of Warren to aid the Warren Parking Authority in their efforts to provide more off street parking in the business district. The Warren Parking Authority working closely with the city council has a number of locations selected for additional parking, however every enterprise needs working funds, and the retailers some months ago voted to support and spark plug a fund to enable the authority to move from the talk into action level on downtown parking. The fund is well over the way mark; however the solicitors have a number of call backs to be made on merchants for final reports.

President of the retailers, Jake Levinson, and president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, Neil Culbertson, were well pleased with the preliminary reports as were other merchants attending the meeting. The official dates of the campaign were July 10 to 31, however the committee voted to extend the campaign date until August 20th thereby giving the solicitors additional time for callbacks. The retailers stated because of the vacation period some merchants could not be contacted, others need replies from front offices.

The drive for initial funds will enable the Parking Authority to start immediate work on the Y.M.C.A. parking project which is a beginning to alleviate downtown parking. The Parking Authority has the interest of all merchants, doctors, lawyers, dentists, insurance offices, barbers, banks, etc., in mind by supplying additional off street downtown parking. It is hoped and felt, these business men will respond in like manner by subscribing to this worthwhile enterprise.

Chairman Levinson and many of the merchants feel this is the correct approach on the parking problem, and that by so doing city council will realize the merchants mean business in attacking this problem, and that council will also give prompt study and action on suggestions to further increase downtown parking with the use of one way streets, and the widening of streets where possible.

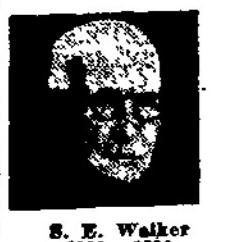

Chairman Krimmel requested all solicitors are to make final their report by Monday, August 13th. At this time non subscribers cards will be reassigned to special teams who will again contact these merchants. Any merchants or individual who has questions regarding the parking authority should contact the Chamber of Commerce for the correct answers.

PAYING FOR THE STEEL PRICE HIKE

"Just who is going to pay for the steel wage price hike?" asks Sam Dawson, in a feature article written for the Associated Press. "Steel company stockholders, manufacturers of products containing steel, merchants and dealers in cars and appliances, or you, the ultimate buyer?" He explains it this way:

All may bear a share of the higher costs. The greatest squeeze perhaps could be on the merchant or dealer who has to coax a consumer who knows that supplies are ample and bargains to be found and whose own paycheck may not have gone up at all.

In the oil fields, for example, they know today they'll have to pay more for pipe. It's in short supply and oil drillers can't help themselves. The cost of finding oil is going up. But this doesn't mean necessarily that your service station is going to raise the price of gasoline. There's too much of it around, too much oil available and being held back at the well.

Last week the United Steelworkers signed a three-year contract which officials of U. S. Steel appraised as raising their operating costs in the first year by $10 a ton.

This week U. S. Steel dropped the other shoe. It advanced prices of its products by various amounts for an average, it said, of $8.50 a ton.

On the face of it this would seem, by lowering the profit margin, to put the company in the position of making up the difference in reduced earnings. But the company may be expecting to get back some of this $1.50 by increased productivity and use of more efficient new plants.

Those who plan to build stores, factories, office buildings, bridges or schools have little choice but to raise their cost estimates. Higher construction costs could deter some building but there is no early sign of that.

Manufacturers using steel in their products probably will pay the high prices without much quibbling. Some may absorb part of the higher material costs, but many contend they can't absorb any more and must pass them along in higher tags on their own products. If they can, and their competitors don't undersell them and capture the market, their profit margins should continue comfortable.

This then would leave it right up to the merchants and dealers — and it's their profits that may be squeezed the most at first.

The annual August Dollar Days edition of The Times-Mirror will be printed Thursday. It will be worth your while to peruse it carefully for money-saving bargains that have been assembled by the forty merchants participating in the Friday and Saturday sales events.

Officials of the Warren County Chapter of the American Red Cross are to be commended for another excellent job in connection with recent flood damages in and around the borough. It has been announced that ten families have signified their intentions to seek funds provided by the National organization for approximately $2,000, which would be used to repair houses and replace furniture and appliances ruined by water.

Announcement that physical examinations for Warren High School football players will start next week is another forcible reminder that the fall season is closer than just around the corner.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God. — Jeremiah 42:6.

When the ruler is obedient to God, God is his protector and friend. — Saadi.

Home Stretch

Here and There

Here's a salute to August, as printed in the editorial columns of The New York Times.

"August is a ripeness, not the full fruiting of autumn but the maturing of May and June into stem and fruit. It is the next step beyond the haste of growth and blossom. It is the fattening ear in the sweet corn patch, the squash upon the vine, the tomato turning from green to pink and then to red. It is oats in shock and alfalfa at its second cutting and pastures getting rank and weedy. It is green fruit on the elderberry blossom on the thistle, grapes both wild and tame hanging in thick green clusters in the sun. It is ironweed and Joe Pye weed showing purple."

"August is summer at the dog days, when streams grow sluggish and ponds turn tepid and fecund with algae. Tadpoles are frogs and fledglings are on the wing. Sunset comes earlier and sunrise begins to lag noticeably. The days have a leisure about them that late June and early July lacked completely; and soon the August nights will be loud with the night-criers, the insects which buzz and stridulate, the crickets, the katydids, the cicadas and all their kind. For August is the time of their maturity, their mating, the twilight of their lives."

"The plant world begins to relax the urgency of growth now largely past and the time of fruiting at hand for which the growth was preparation. And the insect world comes to its time of almost frantic haste, to deposit the eggs that mean perpetuation of each species. The rhythm dictates to all, the inevitable sequence of the days, the seasons, the year. There is no escape. Their time is upon them all, in some degree, and time flows like the river."

The oldest automobile dealer in Warren and the oldest used car dealer in town figured in the escapade involving "Big Joe's" monkey "Cheetah" captured Tuesday at the C. L. Mader home, 1327 Conewango Avenue extension, after enlarging a life of freedom for several days following its escape from the fruit stand and used car lot several days ago. Mr. Mader explained that the family was alerted by the excited barking of their pet cocker spaniel and on investigating discovered the canine was in hot pursuit of the ape, and when the door was opened sufficiently "Cheetah" cavorted around inside the house from basement to upper floors before finally being chased into the garage where "Big Joe" and some of his experienced associates succeeded in subduing it some time later in the afternoon. — Big mystery in connection with the incident is how the monkey, which escaped from the fruit stand at Venturetown, managed to cross the swollen Conewango creek during its short period of freedom. In the meantime it was reported sighted at several points, including Oakview and Hackney Meadows.

Nixon Proves Himself Champion of the Rebound

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — One thing about Vice President Richard M. Nixon. There has seldom been an American political figure who could get kicked into more mud puddles and somehow manage to crawl back out looking sweater and cleaner than when he fell in.

Nixon's senatorial expense fund disclosures during the 1952 campaign made him an "underdog" candidate who aroused great sympathy among the voters.

The Murray Chotiner influence-peddling charges of the past year are to be investigated by a congressional committee. But so far these scandals haven't rubbed off on Nixon, who had employed Chotiner as campaign manager.

President Eisenhower's expressed doubts about Nixon's political future didn't set him back in the slightest.

And Ex-Gov. Harold Stassen's effort to dump Nixon has so far only served to strengthen his place on the ticket.

DEMOCRATIC National Committee Chairman Paul Butler doesn't go around volunteering this information, but every time he's asked about it at a press conference, he says he still believes President Eisenhower will withdraw from the presidential race before it's over, for reasons of health.

Explaining this, Butler says he's merely taking President Eisenhower at his own words. These were to the effect that he would re-examine his own health from time to time and would not assume the burdens of office if he felt he could not carry them.

ADVOCATES of bigger and better harmony for the forthcoming Democratic national convention at Chicago point out that one of the best moves the Southern wing of the party could make would be to unite behind a Southern Democrat who would be acceptable to the North as a vice presidential candidate.

So far, the only two Northern Democrats who have said they'd take the vice presidency are Sens. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and John Kennedy of Massachusetts. Neither is acceptable to the South.

Allstate paid $90,700,587 in auto insurance claims during 1955!

■ Allstate, the company founded by Sears, has long been famous for low cost auto insurance. But here's another important reason why Allstate Auto Insurance is really better value too.

Allstate's record is unsurpassed for keeping our promise of protection.

Last year Allstate paid out $90,700,587 to protect our policyholders. An average of $357,089 every working day of the year!

At the same time, Allstate's service organization grew to number over 2,600 thoroughly trained, state licensed agents and more than 8,200 other full time employees conveniently located in 998 offices throughout the U. S. and Canada.

It's no wonder that in 1955, for the second straight year, car owners bought more auto insurance from Allstate than any other company based on direct written premiums. You can't buy better auto insurance, why pay more?

MR. AND MRS. JAMES E. REILLEY — Kofod Studio

Celia Ann Toscano, 22 Morrison street, became the bride of James E. Reiley, son of Mrs. Ruth Reiley and the late James W. Reiley of Warren RD 2, in a lovely double ring ceremony performed at 8:00 a.m. July 28 in St. Joseph's church, Father-Rocco Tito officiating.

Bouquets of white glads decorated the altar. Music was furnished by Mrs. Donald Edinger at the organ, playing background music during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by Leo Minnelli, her brother-in-law, selected a white waltz length gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin, with fitted bodice and long tapering sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a pearl studded cap and she carried a bouquet of chiffon roses.

Nancy Toscano, as her sister's maid of honor, was dressed in a ballerina length gown of net and lace over taffeta, complemented with a bolero over a strapless bodice. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations.

Veto Grato served as best man, while Vincent Toscano, brother of the bride, and Paul Bova served as ushers.

The bridegroom's mother chose a pink linen suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The bride's sister, Mrs. Leo Minnelli, selected toast cotton with tan accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

A reception was held at the bridegroom's home on Follett Run Road, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m., with about 100 in attendance. A centerpiece of pink roses was featured, with additional attractive floral decorations throughout the home. Mrs. Marceline Bloom managed the guest book; Mrs. Patricia Greco cut the three-tiered cake, which was topped with floral decorations and a miniature bridal couple; Nancy Toscano and

The Nature Parent

Confession Is Good for Soul Of Parent--AND the Child

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

AS a youngster, James was forbidden ever to "play" with his father's truck.

One evening just before bedtime, he remembered that he'd left his new cap pistol out in the yard. Into his mind rushed all the warnings he'd been given about leaving toys out in the weather.

But in the yard it was too dark to locate his pistol. Worriedly scuffing through the grass, James suddenly realized the presence of his father's truck in the driveway. Seizing on it as his solution, he ran to it, switched on its lights—and saw the pistol gleaming in some nearby grass.

He was switching the lights off when his father grabbed him shouting, "Playing with the truck, were you?" his father cuffing him twice—and sent him crying into the house to bed.

HE went with rising anger. That his father had called his productive, momentary use of the truck's lights "playing" seemed an impossible stupidity to James.

The more he thought about it, the more intolerable grew the prospect of unending submission to an authority so incapable of fair judgment. Cried he to his mother, "I don't want to live with him any more! I'm going to run away!"

Scared, she told his father. Scared, his father told the corner policeman. Scared, the corner policeman told James all about the bad things that happen to boys who run away from home. Scared, James decided not to try it.

But his secret contempt for his father's authority, he mentioned to nobody. So, though fear blocked his running away, his longing for flight was left untouched and undissolved along with that secret contempt for authority.

If it remains undissolved, James can become a person who spends his life running away from authorities of one kind or other.

WHAT can his father do to help him?

He can confess the selfishness that earned the contempt. By confessing it, he will repudiate it, exposing it to James as something he wishes to be freed from. Then his son can gradually free himself of the contempt the selfishness aroused.

As we all suffer from selfishness in some degree, we need never wallow in guilt when we confess it to a child. Such wallowing is just as egotistical as refusing to admit the fault at all.

The value of quiet confession is described by famed European psychoanalyst Viktor E. Frankl in his book "The Doctor and the Soul" by these words: "In repenting, man may inwardly break with an act; and in living out this repentance, the inner act, he can undo the outer act on a spiritual, moral plane."

GOLD STAR MOTHERS HAVE DINNER-MEETING

Warren County Chapter, Gold Star Mothers, enjoyed a six o'clock dinner Monday evening at the American Legion Home, after the rains had "washed out" their original plans for an outing at the home of Esther and Bill Carnes in Pleasant township.

TV Is One Place Where Unexpected Never Happens

THE things I wish would happen on TV never come about.

The guest on the quiz show being talked down to in a patronizing way by a smug master of ceremonies never gets riled up enough to tell the quizmaster off. Wouldn't it be fun if just one contestant let fly with a verbal right to the jaw?

If only that movie star making a guest appearance would fail to mention his latest picture. Wouldn't that be a welcome change?

Or think what a surprise it would be if the guest from the studio audience who has been asked to tell which side of a model's hair was washed with the sponsor's shampoo and which with some unnamed, inferior brand would only choose the wrong side of the scalp.

It would even be a pleasant change if just once on one of the cops and robbers programs the cops were outsmarted by the bad men (Though, of course, this might not be good for the kiddies who, according to TV people, can see all kinds of violent crimes enacted on the home screen if only the wrongdoers are caught at the end of the 15-minute program.)

IF ONLY GIRLS WOULD SHRINK

Since the older the TV comedian is, the more beautiful are the girls he usually surrounds himself with, wouldn't it be a relief to see just one of them look pained instead of ecstatic when the old boy nuzzles up to her? Of course, she'd lose her job but what a small price to pay to give the "vast television audience" such a priceless treat.

I've even waited a long time to hear the wife of a husband answering quiz questions say "you dope" to her marital partner instead of smiling sweetly when he muses the question that would have given her a mini-coat.

But the unexpected never happens on TV. Even the country's four and five-year-olds can predict with certainty just what is going to occur next.

Calvary Baptist Circles Starting Another Season

Tuesday evening was a busy occasion for members of the missionary circle groups of Calvary Baptist church, according to reports of the following gatherings: Signe Erickson Circle met at the Arvid Danielson home, Brook street, with Mrs. Danielson's daughters, Mrs. Jean Reed and Mrs. Ray Asp as hostesses while their mother is visiting another daughter, Mrs. Clair Cable, in St. Paul, Minn.

Mrs. Reed presented a devotional meditation and prayer and Mrs. Rachel Graves, circle chairman, conducted the business session and program.

Plans were made to help supply much-needed film-strip to the circle missionaries, the William Cheshire in Cebu, The Philippines; and a freewill offering was taken to help purchase necessary supplies for the Heinz Leuchaeas, German refugee couple due to arrive in Warren next week under the sponsorship of Calvary Baptist church. The group also planned to be hostess to the combined missionary circles in September, and the business session was concluded with a Prayer Circle.

Mrs. Clarence Swanson gave a very comprehensive report on the women's work division of the Baptist General Conference sessions held in Waukegan, Ill., this summer; Mrs. Rex Confer presented a review of the forthcoming Christian missionary book, "Through Gates of Splendor" by Abe C. Van der Puy.

At a late hour, the hostesses served refreshments. The reading chairman, Mrs. James Holmberg, distributed material and members were reminded the October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Chase, North Warren. Other circle meetings last evening were held at the homes of Janet Ahlgren, Division street; Mrs. H. A. Backstrom, Hill street; and Mrs. Harold Gross, East Fifth avenue.

Stay Cool All Day

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

FOR gals who can't rush to a cool bathtub or a frigid movie during the day, the time to prepare for staying cool is in the early morning.

The morning shower or bath ought to be followed by a ritual of fragrance, designed to keep a body cool and smelling sweet.

One set of after-bath preparations for summer coolness comes from the maker of a fabulous fragrance, styled the world's most expensive. In the same scent, the bath powder is extra-fine milled to feel smooth. Also, as always, a scented powder does the same thing for makeup base does for rouge and eye shadow. It provides a sound background and helps make it last.

A monologue will be presented by George Cunningham, well known for past performances in many fields of Warren Players dramatics.

The boys are Stewart Pinsky, who has made a Buffalo TV appearance, and Guy Smith, accordionist with Warren Boy Choir on its New York TV show.

Concluding the program will be two soprano soloists, Mrs. Mary Potter Schreiber is well known in musical circles in Kane, is a graduate of and holds a post-graduate seal from Warren Conservatory of Music. Sprinkle of Seed Brings A Rainbow of Flowers

Planting plan for combined border and cutting garden of 12 annual flowers.

All the colors of the rainbow, with fragrance besides, can be grown in a combined border and cutting garden from a dozen packets of flower seed.

Sown in a sunny area of the home grounds, this planting will serve the double purpose of making a garden display, and providing a wealth of cut flowers for the house all summer long.

These flowers bloom so freely that you may cut dozens of blossoms daily without noticeable effect upon the garden display. Indeed, liberal cutting will only make the flowers bloom more abundantly. Never let a blossom go to seed, if you want to keep them coming.

All the colors of the rainbow are included in this array; and there will be fragrance besides, due large part to No. 1, nicotiana affinis, the sweet tobacco. Its white trumpet flowers are delightfully perfumed, and are especially enjoyable at twilight.

No. 2, callopis, is the annual form of coreopsis, and has the same daisy-like flowers; but a far greater variety of color. Colors include various tones of yellow, orange, maroon and crimson with many two-tone combinations. No. 3, annual larkspur, is the annual delphinium, rich in true pinks, dark blues, and white. No. 4, Cleome, is the spider-plant, growing four feet tall, bearing pink flowers.

Scabiosa, No. 5, is one of the loveliest of cut flowers in spite of its unpleasant Latin name, though its popular title of "mourning bride" is not much better. It bears on long stems ball shape flowers of the finest texture, and richest coloring, ranging from white through many tones of pink, red, lavender and blue. Centaurea, No. 6, is remarkable for its true blue, true pink, and deep red double flowers. The type of Marigold which should be planted in No. 7 space is the dwarf two-toned Harmony strain. No. 8, caleundra, is Shakespeare's "marygold," so changed for the better he would marvel at it, and still one of the finest of flowers.

For space No. 9, illiput zinnias are recommended; they make bushy plants covered with small double flowers, which are fine for low bowl arrangements. In No. 10 plant snapdragons, of the garden type, which will bloom through most of the summer.

In the foreground of the garden, blue ageratum, in the spaces numbered 11 and white petunias in the center space, No. 12, will make a striking contrast, and bloom abundantly all summer.

Your Times-Mirror Carriers at Play

PART OF THE PACK—A scene repeated often at the Times-Mirror carrier boy outing Saturday afternoon was this melee around the soft drink stand. Lads drank 500 bottles in a couple hours.

It was a gala, festive occasion Saturday afternoon as about 70 carrier boys of the Times-Mirror were celebrated guests at their annual outing, held this year on Marion Outing Club grounds as flood conditions prevailed at Cinderella Lake.

An afternoon of horse play, duckings, splashing, games, contests and good old American-style "screwballisms" was highlighted after dinner when Duane Steber of Venturetown found himself drawn to a $50 bill.

More cash provided another uproar in the afternoon when Times-Mirror circulation manager Howard Clark tossed a handful of coins into a huge mound of sawdust (which was rapidly dissipated).

Young Fitzgerald found the marked coin and was presented another dollar for his digging endeavors.

In the guzzling department, Tom Padale and Ed Sharp proved their supremacy as they guzzled their way to empty bottles ahead of the pack.

Fadale proved that he could duck it out as well as suck it in and he scored another first in the balloon blowing contest, sharing honors there with Bill Clark.

In the human wheel-barrow race, Dave Hollingshead was the barrow who was wheeled over the finish line first by Bob Schatzie. They received a ball and bicycle basket respectively.

In the romp department, Pat Hartnett proved a fast man and won a bicycle tire for his huffing and puffing. Horse fight saw the winning mount in the form of Brian McIntosh subdue all comers with Bill Brooker grappling from his shoulders.

Jeff Clark chose these other winners: Bill Brooker of Starbrick, radio; Charles Bonavita, flash camera; Bill Hogan, pair of shoes.

A chicken and biscuit dinner prepared by Lewis Catering was served by Howard and Meredith Clark, Sparky and Bernice Saylor and Julie Finzer.

The hungry, thirsty rascals had previously consumed 500 bottles of pop and an equal number of ice cream dixie cups.

Youngsville—Regular meeting of Borough Council was held Monday, with Burgess Kay and six councilmen present, and the invocation given by President G. M. Sanford.

Bills in the sum of $4,397 were approved and ordered paid. The police report listed one motor violation, 11 calls, five doors unlocked, one accident, five lights out, one dog disposed of, two funerals policed, four assists to other departments, and four drunks taken care of. Meter collections for the month of July totaled $471.13; 56 tickets were issued for parking violations. Police Justice Thompson paid in fines collected during July of $83.00.

In regard to replacement of present parking meters because of age and use of the present meters, the secretary was instructed to write Miller Meter Co., manufacturers of present meters, and the Dual Meter Corp., for prices and possible allowance on old meters.

Mr. Oehlenschlager and Gordon Kay, property owners on Second street, asked to have the grade checked and gravel placed on the street.

Owners of vacant lots within the borough are reminded that such lots must be mowed, or owners shall be subject to penalties as provided by Borough Ordinance No. 188.

A motion was adopted whereby the following fees are prescribed, such fees to be charged from Aug. 6, 1956: establishing and staking out sidewalk grades, $10.00; locating and staking sanitary sewer connections, $5.00.

L. C. Eastman, borough employee, was appointed temporary borough superintendent during the absence of L. J. Heideger because of illness.

Burgess Kay reported resurfacing of improved streets has been held up because of wet weather, but that this work will be done as soon as favorable weather permits.

Scout Troop At Youngsville Raises Money for Pool

Youngsville—Tag Day for the benefit of the swimming pool, jointly sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 31 and Explorer Post 31, was successful; but an additional $150.00 is needed to finish resurfacing the pool. Total cost of the work on the project will be about $350.

Churches and other organizations will be given an opportunity to contribute, and any individual who has not already been contacted would like to give to this worthy cause may get in touch with Robert Lind, James Blackmer, Alvin Jackson, Gilbert McCollough, or any other of the committee, or leave his donation at Abraham's store.

It is hoped the work on the pool may be completed very soon, so that it can be opened for swimming during the rest of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Schuler have returned from a three-weeks trip to California, and visits to Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam, and Las Vegas. They returned by a more southern route through Mississippi and Louisiana. In Los Angeles, they were guests of her brother, C. C. Foreman, and attended services in a church he had designed and built. He has designed and built homes for some of the movie stars, among his other buildings, and sometimes works with his son, who is also an architect. The Schulers bore greetings from their Youngsville friends, Mrs. Cleve Richards, to her son, Jack, in Los Angeles, and from Mrs. Treasa Bowers to her daughter, Mrs. Basil Weiderholz, in Tucson, Ariz. They had only good weather during their trip, and especially enjoyed the good roads.

Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Alvin Jackson, and daughter, Janice, are still in Pleasantville. The latter is staying with her mother, Mrs. Carl Solberg, West Palm Beach, Fla., who is spending several weeks with her daughter, who is now visiting relatives in Youngsville for a few days.

Ralph Whitmore, Erie, called on friends in Youngsville Tuesday.

STILL SMOULDERING—A couch still smouldered this morning in front of the Burney Darr home in Tiona. Steve Ansell looks over the damaged structure. The family, which includes six children, all escaped through a back bedroom window as the front of the house was gutted.

OBITUARIES

FUNERAL INFORMATION WILL BE FOUND UNDER ANOTHER HEADING

ROBERT L. NEAVES

Funeral services for Robert L. Neaves, 67, of Pleasantville, will be held in Titusville Thursday at one o'clock. Burial will be in the family lot in the Sheffield cemetery.

Mr. Neaves died at his home at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday after a lingering illness. He had lived in Pleasantville for the past two years, moving there for his health as he had a severe asthmatic condition.

He was born in Wallaceburg, Canada, the son of Thomas and Nancy Gilson Neaves. He came to this country when a child and settled with his family in Sheffield, where he attended school.

Mr. Neaves married Della Gilmore at Sheffield in 1912. They went to live in Meadville where he was employed for eight years on the Erie Railroad. After several years in South Carolina, he moved to Massena, N. Y., where he was employed by the Aluminum Company of America for 25 years. He retired due to ill health and moved to Pleasantville.

Mrs. W. R. FULLER

Funeral services were held in Sherman, N. Y., Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Olive Dyke Fuller, aged 57 and wife of William R. Fuller, who died at her home at that place late Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Victor Stouffer, Baptist pastor, conducted the rites and interment followed in Foster Cemetery at Lancaster.

Mrs. Fuller was born at Sugar Grove, a daughter of Frank and Betty Dyke, and lived in that area until she moved to Sherman 14 years ago.

Besides her husband, she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Ellen Gourley and Mrs. Nellie Gourley, Sugar Grove and Miss Jeanette Springer, Sherman; also five grandchildren, Joanne, Rodney, Roger, Rosemary and Dale Gourley, Sugar Grove; one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Mabel Utteg, Sugar Grove; Arthur Dyke, Warren, and Floyd Dyke, Youngsville.

CARL OSCAR PETERSON

Carl Oscar Peterson, 75 year old former Tidoute resident, died at 6:00 a.m. Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Luella L. Hedberg, 114 Superior street, Jamestown, N. Y., with whom he was visiting. He had been ill only a few days.

Mr. Peterson was born in Sweden on October 21, 1880, a son of Charles J. and Ida C. Peterson Peterson, and came with them to this country as a small child. He had lived for many years in the Tidoute area, working as an oil field engineer, and moved to Long Island five years ago. He had been a member of Tidoute Methodist church practically all his life.

Besides Mrs. Hedberg, he leaves another daughter, Mrs. Geneva Forsberg, and grandson Charles Hedberg, both of Jamaica, Long Island; a sister, Mrs. Esther Anderson, Jamestown; a brother, Ernest Peterson, Oil City; and several nieces and nephews. His wife, Zella Baugher Peterson, preceded him in death several years ago.

Following a prayer service in Jamestown Thursday evening, the funeral will be held at 1:00 p.m. Friday in the Triumph church near Tidoute. The Rev. Robert Goode, pastor of the Tidoute Methodist church, will officiate and interment will follow in Triumph cemetery.

MRS. ADDA L. HEETER

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m. Tuesday for Mrs. Adda Laverne Heeter, Clarendon Heights, who died Saturday. The Rev. C. C. Mohney, pastor of Clarendon Methodist church, officiating, was assisted by the Rev. Ellwood Hannold, pastor of the Pleasantville Wesleyan Methodist church at Emigh, Pa. Serving as bearers for interment in Warren County Memorial Cemetery at Starbuck were Leason Hannold, Keith Hannold, Norman Anthony, David Hannold, Paul Hannold and George Meade.

Mr. Tracy filed information that the suspect had stolen $81.13 worth of clothes, tools and logging equipment on or about Nov. 1, 1955.

The suspect was also wanted for passing two bad checks, one for $46.35 here in Titusville.

Attending the rites from away were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Shaffer, Elizabethtown.

Mother Instinct

Two truck loads of volunteers arrived in short order and battled the stubborn blaze for more than an hour. A couch was still smouldering on the front lawn this morning.

Clarendon Fire Chief Leonard Falbriki, who led the volunteer contingent, said he thought the fire started at an electrical switch box in the kitchen.

Neighbors were beginning to come to the Darr family's aid today. The Rev. Wayne F. Champney of Christian Missionary Alliance church in Clarendon has scheduled a prayer meeting and offering for the family at 8 P.M. tonight. Major Schaeffer of Warren Salvation Army also volunteered assistance and neighbors were beginning to take up a collection.

The family, who had fled in nothing but what was on their backs, were taken to Mr. Darr's brother's house in Clarendon, where they slept on the floor.

Mr. Darr at that point began to feel the effects of his heroic actions in the smoke-filled room and began to "turn a little green." He was taken to Warren General Hospital where he spent the night in an oxygen tent. He is in good shape today.

The Summer Darr family, 8 Railroad street, Clarendon, have three children of their own, Sumner, Jr. (Butch) aged 6, David aged 5, and Brenda, 4. On top of that, Mrs. Summer Darr's mother, Mrs. Goldie Morse, is bedridden, as she has been for 11 years, with crippling arthritis.

They have, in the five-room, upstairs apartment, what they call "quite a houseful."

The disastrous fire was the latest in a series of incidents which have plagued the Darr family. About three years ago, Burney Darr, a logger, was struck in the back by a falling tree and was thought to be dead as foam ran from his mouth. It took him months to recover from a broken back.

Two years ago their house had two feet of water in it during the flood. This year water came with two inches of washing again. "Now," Mrs. Darr said, things were just beginning to "look up a little." They had just purchased a television set about a month ago. It was ruined in the blaze.

Also destroyed was everything in the kitchen, including refrigerator, stove, cabinets, dishes, guns. The living room furniture was burned up, and the entire house was permeated by smoke, water and heat damage.

Regarding the steel price hike Eisenhower said the government will keep a close watch on the effect of an average increase of $8.50 a ton put into effect for steel this week.

Citizens Committee To Study Applications for Flood Funds

Once again the Warren County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been called upon to assist residents of the county as a result of flash floods of the past two weeks and has caused Chapter Chairman Ralph E. Sires to call a meeting of Chapter activities chairman to plan closer coordination of Chapter facilities in time of disaster.

Up to five o'clock yesterday afternoon, the final date for receiving applications for assistance, ten requests had been filed which were receiving prompt attention at headquarters. These applications will be presented to a Citizens Committee which will meet Thursday morning at nine o'clock for their consideration and approval.

During the March flood, Red Cross disbursed over twelve thousand dollars for rehabilitation in Warren county.

Red Cross assistance is not a loan—it is an outright gift which, while it does not replace all losses, meets the needs that the family itself is unable to meet without undue hardship. This assistance is given to families and small businesses that are unable to recover with their available resources from the affects of disaster. Miss Margaret Bauer, area field representative of Red Cross has been at the Warren Chapter House assisting a former chapter chairman.

Egypt

"invited" and about which she had not been consulted.

Nehru's announcement increased expectations that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser would try to put the dispute over his nationalization of the strategic waterway before the U.N. Security Council.

Britain meanwhile marshaled an air and sea armada to move more troops to the Mediterranean and went doggedly ahead with plans to hold the Suez conference in London Aug. 16 regardless of whether Egypt boycotted it.

Sir George Young, the Foreign Office spokesman, declared in a news conference statement, however, "our intention is that the dispute on the Suez Canal should be peacefully settled."

He said the Aug. 16 conference would in no way prejudice a final settlement of the 8-year-old quarrel between Israel and her Arab neighbors. That appeared to be an assurance to the Arab States.

Young said it was the intention of the United States, Britain and France, however, to assure the canal is operated in accordance with the international convention of 1888 which guarantees free passage to ships of all nations at all times.

Egypt had barred Israeli ships even before she nationalized the canal July 26.

Although British spokesman were putting more emphasis on a peaceful settlement of the dispute, the Shell Oil Co. today chartered an airliner to evacuate 50 British and Dutch staff families from Egypt in the next two days. British sources said several hundred Britons would be leaving Egypt soon.

Nehru appealed to Britain and France to halt their "warlike" preparations, which he said had disturbed all of Asia. He also criticized the United States, saying the "way" in which Washington withdrew its offer to help finance the proposed Aswan high dam on the Nile had "precipitated" Nasser's decision to nationalize the canal.

Strangely enough, "Cheetah" fared very well in her travels since she got away last Friday. Her coat was sleek and clean just as if she had "stepped from a beauty parlor." It was still a mystery how she had crossed the Conewango Creek from Joe's Market and worked upstream to the Mader home.

Barber Shop Burglar Enters Plea of Guilty

Harrisburg (AP) — Governor Leader today named Dr. Robert A. Matthews, formerly head of the psychiatry and neurology department of Louisiana State University, to head Pennsylvania's new mental health program.

As the state's first commissioner of mental health in the Welfare Department, Dr. Matthews will receive $25,000 a year. The salary is exceeded only by that of Supreme Court justices. The Governor now receives $25,000 but Governor Leader's successor will get $35,000.

A native of Johnstown, Dr. Matthews will be sworn in tomorrow for a five year term and will take up his new duties Sept. 1.

The new mental health commissioner was recently appointed professor of psychiatry at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia.

Stream Clearance Along Indian Run Starts Soon

It was learned at the office of Borough Manager George Geracimos this afternoon that rights of entry had been secured for all property along Indian Run and emergency stream clearance will get under way there Thursday, under the supervision of the Department of Forests & Waters.

Stream clearance will be resumed in Glade Run when the water recedes sufficiently to permit such operations. Due to the fact that the river stage is higher than the run at present, a reversal of the situation that existed earlier in the week, work in Glade is halted temporarily.

TINED $5,000—A disgusted-looking Ted Williams starts to throw his bat in the air after drawing a base on balls to force in the winning run in the Red Sox 11th inning, 1-0, victory over the Yankees at Fenway Park in Boston. Shortly after this game-ending picture was taken, Joe Cronin, Red Sox general manager, announced Williams had been fined $5,000 for spitting twice in the direction of the fans behind the Red Sox dugout. Harrisburg (AP) — Pennsylvania's two members of the Democratic National Platform Committee today considered a suggestion by Gov. AROUND THE WORLD

THE WEST LOSES A CLAIM—The birthplace of the original American cowboy is the Lost Village in Stormville, N. Y., just 65 miles north of Broadway. Susan Zurhorst seems amazed as she views a life-size statue of a Wappinger Indian. It's part of an exhibit which shows how the last Wappinger died fighting for the Americans against the British. The word "cowboy" was first applied to pioneers near here.

BUSY LITTLE GIRL—Until six-year-old Marcia Eden's father brought those four baby raccoons home in Hudsonville, Mich., she lived like most any other little girl. But things are different now because those active little orphans need a lot of care. The way they cling to Marcia would indicate they've adopted her for mother.

MOVING THE WOUNDED—Soldiers of the French Army are shown crowding around taxicabs parked near a hospital in Algiers. The area was turned into a field hospital when fighting broke out in Algeria. Most of these men were wounded and the local taxi syndicate placed some sixty cabs at their disposal to visit the city free of charge.

PART TIME JOB—Ruth Sakovich is a school teacher by profession but she works as a barber during the summer season at Hampton Beach, N. H. On the receiving end of a smooth shave is the resort's Chamber of Commerce president John Dineen. During the school term, Ruth swaps her razor for a slide rule and teaches math at Bound Brook, N. J.

DOUBLE DUTY—That big stuffed bear, the symbol of West Berlin, has joined the local police force and has his post in front of the Memorial Church. He appears to be supervising a policeman's check on citizens' bicycles for safety equipment, lights and other parts.

HOME ISN'T LIKE THIS—Some Negro tribal chiefs from the French colonies of Africa got a completely different outlook than they get at home when they visited the French seaside resort of Deauville. The picturesque tribal leaders were invited to spend a holiday in France on the occasion of the nation's Bastille Day celebrations.

COOL COMFORT—Sweating it out under the hot sun in Rome, an Italian bricklayer is enjoying the Mediterranean equivalent of a coffee break by pouring a cooling stream of fresh wine into his mouth with no help from a glass. The workmen were laboring on the marble monument of the War Memorial in Piazza Venezia in the background.

KID STUFF—Corduroy and flannel combine in a sturdy partnership of separates for the rugged life. This zip-front corduroy jacket is lined and trimmed in a checked non-iron flannel. The matching corduroy pants are cuffed with the same material.

ON THE SAFE SIDE—Young Cypriot children, enclosed in a barbed-wire compound at Morphou, Cyprus, are shown being guarded by British private Ron Gribble. This happened after the first serious crime of violence against British servicemen recently. Meanwhile, English negotiations continue over the drafting of a new constitution for the island.

SAFARI STYLE—This handsome adaptation of the bush coat designed by Waldes Kohinoor is a new idea in sportswear. The unique one-piece construction gives the appearance of two garments. The jacket part is ivy green dacron and cotton twill; shirt is made of black cotton knit.

HIGH AND DRY—Well known as one of the quaintest and most picturesque stretches along the Thames River, this view at Strand on the Green, a section of London, resembles an artist's painting. Most of these waterfront buildings are reminiscent of the Dutch school of architecture. The beached boats are awaiting the return of their owners.

Fans Boo, Williams Spits; Sox Fine, Williams Boils

By BOB HOOBING

Boston (AP)—Sluggish Ted Williams spat defiance today at his $5,000 fine for spitting at Boston fans — heaviest fine in major league history.

"I'd spit again at the same people who booed me today," the Red Sox great said last night.

The $100,000-a-year man logged a new item in his long list of records for his most recent saliva, which occurred after he put a fielding error and fielding gem back to back in the 11th inning against New York yesterday.

Although the announcement was made some 90 minutes after the game by General Manager Joe Cronin, Club Owner Tom Yawkey later revealed in New York "I investigated it" after a phone conversation with Cronin.

"It's got to stop, that's all," was Yawkey's comment.

They'll Shine in All-Star Game

For Williams it was a severe rebuke from the South Carolina millionaire-lumberman who has given Ted a blank check and a free hand for years.

Williams indicated his spitting campaign may be at an end by saying:

"I wouldn't beat the ball park tomorrow if I could stand a fine of $5,000 a day."

Asked if this would be his last season as a player, the fuming Williams added: "Probably."

Only New York's immortal Babe Ruth drew a like $5,000 fine from Manager Miller Huggins in 1925—and it was repaid later to the Bambino. Ruth was penalized for not reporting to the club for two days in St. Louis and for showing up late the third day.

Yesterday, with two out in the Yankee half of the 11th inning, Williams misjudged Mickey Mantle's fly ball, which bounced off his glove for a two-base error. The stands rocked with thundering boos from most of 36,350 fans—the largest crowd since World War II.

Then Terrible Ted leaped against the scoreboard to catch Yogi Berra's drive to end the threat and keep the game a scoreless deadlock.

As he approached the dugout, Williams spat in the direction of the crowd several times.

Ted's performance followed similar spitting episodes July 17 when he hit his 400th major league home run and July 20 on Cronin Hall of Fame night at Fenway Park.

Among the events which led up to Williams' latest outburst, the price of which will be deducted from his pay, were catcalls from the Yankee dugout yesterday. The Yanks were ribbing Ted about his spitting and the fact he had received a front-office reprimand.

Baseball's bad boy said, "I just can't help it" when asked why he boos bother him.

It was suggested to Ted he might be a little to blame for the situation.

"Not a damned bit," he roared. "You writers are responsible for this—the whole thing I'm no rock head, you know. If it didn't bother me, I wouldn't be as fired up as I am now."

Rosewall Sees Aussies 'Holding Edge' Over US

South Orange, N. J. (AP)—Ken Rosewall, the Australian David Cup star who is top-seeded among the foreign entries in the Eastern Grass Court tourney, sees the Aussies holding "bit of an edge" over the United States in the cup Challenge Round in Australia in December.

"The way Lew Hoad's playing," Rosewall explained, "he's the world's best. He'll give us two matches to start."

The sturdy but small Aussie, who moved into today's second round with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Mike Franks, Los Angeles, yesterday, expects the United States to use Vic Seixas and Sam Richardson in the best-of-five match Challenge Round.

Seixas, the top-seeded American player, ousted John Cranston, San Marino, Calif., 6-1, 6-2, and fourth-seeded Richardson, Westfield, N. J. whipped Norm Perry, West Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-2.

Detroit, (AP)—The United States won't take a world record holder of the 100 to the Olympic Games in Melbourne but the water coaches weren't singing the blues today.

Not that Robert Muir, U. S. men's swim coach wouldn't like to take Robin Moore, 19-year-old Stanford husky to Australia. It's just that the Williams College mentor still was smiling today over the tremendous battle waged by the eight finalists in the 100-meter freestyle sprint last night of the Olympic Tryouts.

The first five wound up in a blanket finish, less than an arm's length apart, with Hawaiian Bill Woolsey, Michigan's Dick Hanley and Reid Patterson, an apprentice seaman from Pineville, Ky., coping the 1-2-3 places and berthing on the Olympic team. They were timed in 57 seconds, 57.1 and 57.4.

Carl Woolsey of Michigan was fourth in 57.5 and Moore, holder of the world mark of 48.9 for 100 yards, was fifth in 57.6.

SPORTSNEWK 'HUMS THAT PEA' FOR BUMS WHO PRESSURE BRAVESBy ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Big Don Newcombe, "hummin' that pea" again, is closing in on his second straight 20-victory season and now is within reach of two shutout records while helping Brooklyn's Dodgers keep the pressure on Milwaukee in the National League race.

Newk, winning his 17th of the season and eighth in a row, hung up his third consecutive shutout—stretching his scoreless-inning string to 38—by blanking Pittsburgh 3-0 last night.

The National League record for consecutive shutouts is four and it's been accomplished by only two modern-era pitchers—Bill Lee with the Chicago Cubs in 1938 and Sal Maglie, now a Dodger, when he was with the New York Giants in 1950.

The NL record for consecutive scoreless innings is 46 1-3, by Carl Hubbell of the Giants in 1933.

The victory kept the world champs within 1½ games of the Braves, who belted the Chicago Cubs 6-1. Third-place Cincinnati fell three games back, losing to St. Louis 8-4. Philadelphia, hottest club in the league, made it five straight and 9 out of 10 by sweeping the Giants 4-3 and 3-1 in a twin-night double-header.

American League headlines continued on Ted Williams, fined $5,000 by Boston General Manager Joe Cronin for another spitting skirmish, as the Red Sox clipped the New York Yankees 1-0 in 11 innings. The defeat, seventh in eight games, turned the Yankees lead to seven games over Cleveland as the Indians broke a four-game slump with a 3-2 victory over Detroit. The Chicago White Sox defeated Kansas City 5-4 and 4-3 in a pair of 10-inning contests in the only other action scheduled.

Newcombe, who has allowed only two runs and 25 hits in his last 45 innings, got all the support he needed from Duke Snider, who tagged Vern Law (413) for his 31st home run, with a man on, in the third inning.

The Braves banged 11 of their 12 hits—including two singles that gave Hank Aaron a 24-game streak—off Jim Bissont. Southpaw Warren Spahn clapped in a homer winning his 12th.

In the Cadet division two new all-stars were added to the roster of Eastmen. Ronald Seder and Fred Gelotte are the newcomers. They will work out with the others at 5:30 p.m. Thursday on Memorial Field.

All Hot Stove League players are to be admitted free to the Saturday afternoon of games beginning at 3 p.m. For the public

ALL-STAR GAME DATE NEARS

Enthusiasm for the Hot Stove League All-Star contest this Saturday afternoon on Memorial Field was mounting today as the game date neared.

Practice games among the biggest little leaguers on the map were scheduled as the top contenders in this area prepared for the great day.

St. Louis scored five runs in the last two frames to dump the Redlegs and 15-game winner Brooks Lawrence who now has lost four. Wally Moon had five straight hits for the Cards, including a home run. Ed Bailey and Wally Post smacked two-run homers for an early 4-3 Cincinnati lead. Reliever Jim Konstanty was the winner.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★*Whole Town's Batty About CincinnatiBY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CINCINNATI—(NEA)—This is Cincinnati, a perennial second division town, in this season of Birdie Tebbetts, home runs and pennant hopes:

An elderly woman of close to 70 walks up to the ticket office and says she wants to buy a good seat.

"First base side or third?" the man behind the window asks. "I want to be on the center field side," she says. "I've never been to a game before, but all I hear around is how wonderful Gus Bell is, so I want the nearest seat to him that can be bought."

This is an illustration of why the once-dowdy Reds expect attendance at Crosley Field to go above a million for the first time. In the downtown taverns around Fountain Square, the Terrace Plaza lobby, on a golf course or in the busy Carew Tower office building, there is only one topic people discuss—baseball and the Redlegs.

Politicians at city hall are interested. It now is more than a game to them. The Reds have become part and parcel of this city and a vague rumor that Owner Powel Crosley, dissatisfied with parking conditions, was considering shifting the franchise brought out a political call for the city to buy the franchise.

CINCINNATI'S LAST pennant was won in 1940. Since then it has been a mystery, to the casual visitor, that the club has been able to survive. Cincinnati is on the smallish side, as major league cities go, and you never caught much enthusiasm for baseball around town.

But Gabe Paul, the quiet and competent general manager who has put this team together, points out a few things.

"We get more than 56 per cent of our attendance from outside the city," he says. "They come from the horse country around Lexington, Ky.—only a short drive—or Louisville or Hamilton and Dayton, O. On some Sundays here we get busloads of people up from the deep south. Charter trips come in from as far away as Birmingham."

This season native Cincinnatians are turning out. You never had much trouble buying a ticket to a game in the past, but now even the club's official fan newspaper carries a box proclaiming that ticket orders will not be taken by telephone.

IN THE LAST COUPLE of years an ambitious program of special "nights" for civic groups and corporations put the Reds' attendance at a respectable mark, considering the team's place. The "nights" are on as usual this season, but they are hardly needed.

THESE IS ONLY ONE danger in the situation. "They have to win now," Cincinnati writers seem to believe. "The fans won't settle for second."

That All-Star game did it. Five Reds started and they just about beat the American League. The fans can't conceive them losing in this league. Second place would be a big disappointment to them."

The enthusiasm is solid, but not of the razzle-dazzle type which struck Pittsburgh earlier in the season or was present in Milwaukee and Kansas City when big-time baseball made its first appearance there.

It is a hopeful attitude by a town—and its surrounding countryside—which has grown used to baseball.

Whatever you call it, the front office is satisfied. "The people," Gabe Paul smiles, "are paying their way into the park."

at large, tickets are available from any Kiwanian. Kiwanis is sponsoring the game as their annual benefit for Welfare and Underprivileged Children funds.

Certs Pile It On Sad Independents

The lambasting Certified Electric squad really poured it on last night as they shook the Independents 22-10 in softball play.

Bartholomew led the league leaders with his two home runs, while teammates Fischer, Schmader and Whittaker also poled one for the circuit.

Massa hit a triple and double, and other players going for two bags were Madigan, Sigworth, Massa, Bartholomew and Schmader. Fischer slammed three doubles.

It is the third largest field in the history of the race, and the 31st Hambletonian will have a gross purse of $100,603.99, with the first horse to win two heats earning the top prize of $59,155.15.

Ancient Goshen was jumping with excitement, as harness racing fans jammed into the village for the 3-day Grand Circuit meeting which began yesterday under sunny skies.

Egyptian Princess is one of the fastest 3-year-old fillies ever developed, and when the first one-mile heat of the Hambletonian starts this afternoon, she is expected to be an even-money choice.

Earle Avery drives her from the favorable No. 3 post, as 10 horses will start in two tiers behind the mobile gate. Another heat follows an hour later.
